PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

Full-stack developer with 6+ years architecting custom web applications and APIs using React.js, Node.js, and Go. I build fast, modular applications with scalability baked in from day one. My economics background sharpens how I think—in systems, trade-offs, and long-term value. I own projects from inception to deployment, with a habit of building things that weren't in the job description—from trading algorithms to AI-powered automation pipelines.
